

Report on a day-long workshop titled “Let's SWAG! Salute Women Across Generations” on Friday, 8 March 2024 (9.30 am – 2.00 pm) at The Empress Hall, Fairfield by Marriott, New Town, Kolkata organised by Observer Research Foundation (ORF)

On the occasion of International Women's Day, a delegation of five student representatives from the Department of Political Science consisting of Avishi Rajdan (Semester 6), Anjan Dey (Semester 6), Aritra Kumar Maitra (Semester 6), Kaustav Chakraborty (Semester 1), Sourjya Das (Semester 1) along with a working professional representative Jhelum Ghosh (Faculty, Department of Political Science) was invited to participate in a day-long workshop titled “Let's SWAG! Salute Women Across Generations” on Friday, 8 March 2024 (9.30 am – 2.00 pm) at The Empress Hall, Fairfield by Marriott, New Town, Kolkata hosted by Observer Research Foundation (ORF).

The workshop brought together youth from premier universities and colleges, young professionals and women practitioners /leaders from different spheres in order to understand their vision, aspirations and priorities for building a more progressive India. The delegates representing the Department took part in various group activities ranging from brainstorming business ideas for women-led firms to policy making and finding practical solutions to real world problems. It was a great learning experience for the participants and they came back home with the promise to work towards building equity.

Picture gallery

The delegation of students from the Department of Political Science and SPCMC

Students participating with other student representatives from other colleges and universities at a policy simulation

Avishi Rajdan presenting her ideas to the audience.

A group photo with the Chief Guests at the event