

Course Outcome (CO) (CO as documented in the Calcutta University website)

<https://AWW.caluniv.ac.in/syllabus/Bengali,pd>

A. Core Course

Semester -1

MAJOR

BNGH CC 1: History of Bengali Literature (Upto 1800AD) (6 credits per week)

CO 1: To make students familiar with the various stream of the history of Bengali literature from the very beginning upto 1800A.D.

BNGH SEC-1

Printing and Publication

CO- Enhance the skill of the students to work in the field of printing and publication sector, self-dependance.

Semester- 1

MINOR

BNGH-MIN-1

History of Bengali Literature (Upto 1800AD)

CO 1: To make students familiar with the various stream of the history of Bengali literature from the very beginning upto 1800A.D.

MDC

History of Bengali Literature (Upto 1800AD)

CO 1: To make students familiar with the various stream of the history of Bengali literature from the very beginning upto 1800A.D.

BNG-MD-SEC-1

Printing and Publication

CO- Enhance the skill of the students to work in the field of printing and publication sector, self-dependance.

IDC

Novel and Drama

CO- To make all the students aware about the society and culture of the then Bengal.

> CO 1: The purpose of this course is to acquaint the students with the course of evolution of different genres of Bengali literature in the period after 1800 AD.

C: Ability Enhancement Compulsory Course

AECC 1: MIL Bengali (2 credits)

► This course is offered to students of all disciplines. This course is about Essays, Tagore's poems, short stories and terminology.

Semester -2

MAJOR

BNGH CC2: Descriptive Linguistics and Bengali Language

CO 1: As an Honours student of literature, it is very important to have an idea about Bengali Linguistics and lexicography. This course is designed to meet this goal.

BNGH-SEC-2

Letter, book review & Translation.

CO- Development of communication skill and logical judgement of literature.

MINOR

BNGH CC2: Descriptive Linguistics and Bengali Language (6 credits per week)

CO 1: As an Honours student of literature, it is very important to have an idea about Bengali Linguistics and lexicography. This course is designed to meet this goal.