

Report on the Student Seminar held on September 9, 2025

The Department of Political Science held its student seminar on September 9, 2025 on the topic 'Terrorism in the 21st century: Issues and Challenges'. There was an overwhelming response from the students as they not only found the topic challenging but also relevant for the contemporary period. In their presentations students often went beyond the topic and delve deep into the concept which revealed new understanding of this complex phenomenon. Top three presenters were Sudipto Boral (semester II), MD. Israfil (semester II) and Sayan Pandit (semester I).

A student while presenting

First prize winner Sudipto Boral while presenting

Post-seminar photo with faculties