

Report on the Observation of the Constitution Day of India held on November 26, 2025

The Department of Political Science observed the Constitution Day of India on 26th November 2025 by organising a short lecture on the history and symbolism of this day.

The students of Semester 1, 3 and 5 participated enthusiastically in the Quiz and Extempore Competition organised on this theme.

The programme concluded with the singing of the National Anthem.

A student delivering his speech on the Constitution of India

Post- celebration photo with the participants